Tennis Tournament Working Toward the Final Matches

KIRKPATRICK AND GRUGAN TO MEET IN SINGLES SEMI-FINALS TODAY—FINALS IN CONSOLATION DOUBLES WILL ALSO PROVIDE GOOD MATCH THIS AFTERNOON.

While good progress has been made in the consolation matches in the annual Labor Day Tournament of the Narberth Tennis Association—and incidentally these consolation matches have provided a lot of spirited playing—the regular singles and doubles tournaments are still far from completed.

Only one regular match was played last Saturday, Kirkpatrick and Staples defeating Newell and Grugan 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, in one of the semi-finals. C. L. Warwick and Shaw, and Eastmead and McCahill, have yet to meet in the other semi-final contest, so it is hardly likely that the doubles championship will be decided before next Saturday. This particular match has been unavoidably delayed on account of an injury which has prevented Mr. Eastmead from playing.

The singles tournament is even further behind. In the upper bracket Kirkpatrick and Grugan will probably meet today in one of the semi-final contests. In the lower bracket, the semi-final match will be between Van Auken and the winner of the C. L. Warwick-Whitney match, which may possibly be played today. So probably the final championship match in the singles tournament will not be played until next Saturday, possibly not until the following Saturday, October 9.

It is to be hoped that the Tournament Committee will not schedule any of these semi-final or final matches on week-days, as many of the members of the Association and other residents of the town are looking forward to seeing these contests, and cannot arrange to come out from the city early enough except on Saturdays.

Good Consolation Matches.

The matches in the consolation tournaments have been hotly contested throughout, many of the matches going to three sets. The final match in the doubles contest will probably be played this afternoon between Bailey and Edgerton and W. Harris and Smedley. This will be well worth seeing.

Following is a summary of all matches played since Labor Day morning:

Singles Tournament.

Second round—Shaw defeated McKell, 6-2, 6-2; Kirkpatrick defeated Eastmead, 6-2, 6-2; Grugan defeated Bailey, 6-1, 6-3; Muschamp won from Staples by default; Van Auken defeated Tompkins, 6-0, 6-0; McCahill defeated Pattison, 8-6, 6-2; Whitney defeated Newell, 0-6, 7-5, 8-6; C. L. Warwick defeated Williams, 6-0, 6-4.

Y. M. C. A. Building May Open

MAY MAKE BUILDINGS AVAILABLE FOR MEETINGS—ACTIVITIES NOT INCLUDED.

Consideration is being given by the Narberth Y. M. C. A. to plans whereby it may be possible to make the building available to associations of the community for meetings and other events.

Several requests have been made for such action, which will be dependent on the demand.

It will only be possible to do so on an equitable rental basis, as the opening of the building will necessitate heat and janitor service and will only be undertaken providing income is sufficiently in sight to cover such expense.

Any organization anticipating necessity for use of building should communicate at once to Mr. W. N. Mills, Secretary, 237 Forest avenue, naming approximate dates and times such use may be desired..

Prompt advice is essential, that proper consideration may be given the matter.

Here and Hereabouts

Dr. Snyder's appeal in behalf of the Boy Scouts in last week's paper makes it plain that our estimable townsman can apply his fine skill as a diagnostician in more fields than one, and the community is under obligations to him for depicting in such an effective fashion the urgent need of immediate measures to relieve the sorry plight which he so aptly and accurately describes. If you're not objecting, Doctor, we'll ask the editor to print what you say once again, for it can't be said better, and folks need to pay heed to what is set forth, and heed it they will, for neglect of such a thing mars the making of a man, and there's no question that the movement which shall be started must receive the hearty and generous support of every resident of the borough who has the proper conception of his citizenship and the duty he owes the generations which follow him. And it might be just as well to consider

A LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

In a communication in your last week's issue, written by a person who gallantly hides his identity behind the signature "Narbrook," it is said that "Lot No. 37 is positively the dirtiest" in the Park, and it is implied that the supposed offense is the greater because the owner of the lot "caused to be written into the mutual agreement made among the lot holders and subscribers that the owners of the lots should be compelled to keep them clean." May I be permitted, as the object of this uncalled-for attack, to refute its unneighborly aspersions?

The owner of Lot No. 37 did propose the agreement mentioned; for that reason, if for no other, it might be assumed that he would not willingly ignore its requirements. As a fact, he engaged with a Narberth resident, under contract, to remove from the lot all unsightly brush, fell such trees as were not desirable, and make a lawn. For more than a year I urged performance of the improvement work agreed upon, but the contractor always pleaded that his facilities had to be devoted to work of a more urgent nature. As every rational person knows, during the war it was impossible, and since then has been extremely difficult, to obtain labor for tasks of this kind. The reason for the delay will be understood by any intelligence above that of the nursery.

But the ignorance of the anonymous critic is not so offensive as the inventions of his gratitous complaint. Lot No. 37 is not the "dirtiest" in the section; it is not "dirty" at all. Its condition compares very favorably with that of any other unoccupied tract in the Park. There is not a square foot of it in unsightly bareness. True, it is not planted with shrubbery of Narberth commercial production, which to certain minds might seem a shocking defect; but it is completely covered with luxuriant greenery provided by Nature, whose handiwork is not, perhaps, grossly inferior to that of the tradesman. And among the growing trees and wild shrubs and flowering plants there is not a piece of rubbish.

If your correspondent were honestly interested in improving the Park area, he would hardly have singled out Lot No. 37 for his peevish and unwarranted criticism, when nearby are conditions really deplorable. One lot is simply a stretch of neglected dirt, disfigured by ash heaps and a scattering of tin cans and other refuse. Farther along the scene is marred by patches of towering weeds and huge piles of stumps. On several lots, some of them tenanted, there are fallen trees and brushwood and piles of withered weeds in unwholesome disarray. Compared with such conditions, the natural foliage and wild flowers that cover Lot No. 37 might be called an adornment.

The undersigned is always ready to do his full share in maintaining the dignity and beauty of Narbrook Park. But he resents criticism which is inspired by other motives than public interest, and which, moreover, is neither well founded nor candid. Neither was this lot purchased for "speculative" purpose, but as a patriotic proposition, and anyone who wishes it may have it at cost. OWNER OF LOT NO. 37.

A Plea for Narberth Boy Scouts

Residents of Narberth are confronted by a condition which challenges the loyalty of a community that justly prides itself upon its intelligence and public spirit. The local troop of Boy Scouts, which has won distinction for Narberth as well as for its members, is threatened with the necessity of dissolution. Since the closing of the Y. M. C. A. the troop has been unable to find quarters for its meetings, and unless suitable accommodations of this kind are provided this most useful and inspirational undertaking will have to be abandoned.

To anyone even remotely interested in the welfare of our boys and familiar with the work of the Boy Scouts, it must be clear that such a lapse would be deplorable. My own feelings in the matter are very deep, because in my younger days I was privileged to come into close association with boys and to derive a sympathetic understanding of their needs. As an instructor of sciences in a high school, superintendent of science instruction in public schools, and later, as an officer of State militia, I became acquainted with the propensities of youth and learned something of the ways in which its energies can best be directed toward the formation of sound character. And I am satisfied that the Boy Scouts society possesses an institution incomparably effective for this beneficent work.

My faith in the organization was abundantly confirmed a few weeks ago by a visit to Camp Delmont, on the Perkiomen, where nature and a philanthropic citizen have provided an ideal equipment for the practice of scout-craft by organized groups of boys. Moreover, the demonstration had a particular appeal because the outstanding feature was the leadership of the Narberth youngster in the rivalry of the troops for Scout honors.

Their fathers and mothers—and their neighbors, too—have every right to be proud of the distinctions won by these manly young fellows in generous emulation with their associates. There were ten or twelve troops in camp when I was there, more than 200 boys and officers in all. The spirit of discipline, of comradeship, of helpfulness, of self-reliance, courtesy and manly achievement, was admirable, and in these respects the Narberth boy had made quite notable records, as shown by their numerous badges of merit.

While seated with the executive officers in the dining-room, for example, I observed that the Narberth troop's table bore a special flag, and I asked what that signified. The reply was that the flag was awarded daily to that troop which excelled in discipline, orderliness and general demeanor; and, furthermore, that the flag decoration had then been conferred on the Narberth troop for the eighth consecutive day. Surely, there could not be a more striking tribute to the character of our Narberth boys and the efficiency of their devoted leader, Scoutmaster Fred C. Patten.

Those not familiar with the aims and methods of the organization would be deeply impressed if they studied its varied activities. The Boy Scout learns far more than to take care of himself, to know nature, to use his hands and his head and his faculties. He learns, in addition to many varied mechanical and artful accomplishments not obtainable in so large a degree by our boys in any other way—self-respect, clean living, reverence and loyalty, and almost unconsciously develops the qualities which make for useful, Christian manhood and citizenship. In a word, he acquires habits of physical, mental and moral discipline which enhance his value to himself and to society.

It goes without saying that every good American is interested, whether he realizes it or not, in promoting such a sane and constructive work as that of the Boy Scouts. And the residents of Narberth are especially concerned because their boys have shown exceptional aptitude in the training and have conspicuously upheld the honor of the community.

In the face of such a need and such a demonstration, would it not be a reproach, a calamity, if the Narberth troop were compelled to disband for lack of a meeting place? To permit that would be to confess a woeful deficiency of civic pride and a lamentable unconcern for the welfare of our youth. More than that, it would be to sacrifice self-interest by abandoning a work which tends to elevate the present and future life of the community.

It is earnestly to be hoped that the men and women of Narberth will awaken to their obligations in this matter before it is too late and provide for their splendid Boy Scout troop the modest quarters it needs for its gatherings.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate one hundred per cent. Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State and Nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.—Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

NATIONAL CONVENTION.

One of the most distinguished visitors at the second annual national convention of the American Legion, which will convene in Cleveland, Ohio, next week, will be General Marie Emile Fayolle, of the French army. The General, who will be France's official representative at the convention, is making his first visit to this country. He will be accompanied by Lieutenant Colonel Requinz, a member of Marshal Foch's mission to America, and Lieutenant Soubiran, who will act as interpreter.

On the eve of his departure from France the famous French soldier remarked that he would study the organization of the American Legion, to see if its system could not be applied to several similar bodies of French veterans. At the same time he remarked:

"The American soldier need not take off his hat to the soldiers of any army engaged in the great war. There were some as good but none better. You know it was under my command that the Americans received their baptism of fire at Cantigny, and they were simply magnificent. They were with me again in the offenses between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry. I shall be very happy to meet American poilus who were my comrades in battle."

The General is six feet tall and straight. In spite of his sixty years his spirit is youthful.

EX-SERVICE MEN'S CLAIMS.

What has the Legion done for the ex-service man? Strange as it may seem, the question sometimes is still asked. Well, during the ten months past the Legion, through its service division at national headquarters, has obtained for ex-service men more than $1,250,000 due on claims. National headquarters handles only complicated cases. It is estimated that claims aggregating $7,000,000 have been settled by service officers of the various State departments.

NEW POSTS.

Posts of the American Legion formed in this and foreign countries totaled 9,709 up to August 27, a report from national headquarters shows. Fifteen Legion posts and thirteen women's auxiliary posts were formed in the week August 20-27.

DANCE.

Do not forget the first dance of the winter series to be held in Elm Hall on Friday evening, October 1st. Get your tickets from Ed. Wipf.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATION.

A special committee will be appointed to arrange for plans that will make Armistice Day, November 11, one to be remembered for some time. If you have any suggestions to make see the chairman of this committee.

VICTORY MEDALS.

Part of the Armistice Day program will be the presentation of the Victory Medals. If you have not obtained yours, try to do so, as we would like to have every man turn his medal in a day or so before, in order that the committee can have them ready for the presentation.

here what can be done, keeping in mind, of course, that other plans should be advanced, but not forgetting, either, that there is such a thing as too much contemplation.

A week or two past the indefatigable Bob outlined in his usual virile manner the ambitions of the local post of the American Legion with reference to permanent headquarters, and he properly said that the project was worthy of whole-hearted support. He said something about it being a memorial, but he knows I don't agree with him there, for a memorial is a memorial, and a Soldiers' Post is something else again, but there's every reason why the town should provide a Soldiers' Post, and so there's not much difference between us, after all. As I understand it, the Legion has already secured an option on that very choice lot which carried the frame office which John Caldwell occupied while he was making his first million, and during the period of the option they are making shift with the little barracks on a lease basis. The young men have been assured that they will have, come what will, the equity money needed to consummate the purchase, but the whole thing, the ultimate structure and necessities, should be considered right now, and it seems to be the most logical thing in the world to give thought to the needs of both organizations, the American Legion and the Boy Scouts, both governed by the same high ideals, two souls indeed with but a single thought, and bed-fellows par excellence, as one might say. The circumstances demand, of course, that both bands maintain their own identity, and it's reasonable to give priority rights to the seniors, and I suggest that the American Legion men set forth exactly what they would like to do ,how they would arrange to permanently accommodate the Boy Scouts, and there's little question that impetus can be given to the joint object forthwith, with a fine Memorial Day, 1921, in prospect.

Of course, it will be kept in mind that regular people live in Narberth, the kind of folks who have been sadly neglected in the distribution of the profits and bonuses which were left off at the first station we meet going in, hence the necessity of cutting our cloth to fit our purse, and it's not a highly ornate or expensive structure we can afford, much as we would like to. Therefore, that which has been said about a good, commodious log-cabin affair listens well, indeed, and if a punctilious or martinetish borough official says it's against the law, we'll fill him full of hooch.

In next week's issue we shall look for what the American Legion has to say, and they shouldn't be bashful when they're asked.

THE SPECTATOR.

DR. L. R. DAVIS WEDS MISS STILLWAGON.

Dr. Lawrence Ross ("Lardie") Davis, former Penn basketball captain and All-American centre, was married on Wednesday night in the First Presbyterian Church to Miss Grace Elizabeth Stillwagon, daughter of Magistrate and Mrs. Howard S. Stillwagon, of No. 214 Cricket avenue, Ardmore.

The Rev. Dr. Edmund Rawson performed the ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the bride. The best man was Dr. J. Louis Martin, of this city, who was a classmate of Dr. Davis and captained the Penn basketball team in 1917. Dr. and Mrs. Davis will live at the Lincoln, Ardmore.

Hallowe'en Masquerade Dance to be Given by Ladies of Tennis Association

Members of the Narberth Tennis Association and their wives and friends are asked to keep in mind the Hallowe'en Masquerade Dance which will be given in Elm Hall, Saturday evening, October 30.

The affair will be given by the Ladies' Committee of the Association and promises to be a big party—lots of fun for everybody. Many unique and amusing costumes, and plenty of dancing for all.

Members of the Association will be supplied with tickets in about ten days.

Attention! Women Voters

Women who have not as yet paid their poll tax may have the opportunity of doing so at the Fire Hall on Wednesday evening, September 29th, from 7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

This arrangement is especially for the convenience of business women. However, all others who have neglected doing so may also pay at this time.

After this date it must be sent to Norristown before October 2nd.

THE FIRESIDE

Miss Dorothy M. Beatty, of 400 N. Narberth avenue, graduated as a trained nurse from the Pennsylvania Hospital. She is spending a month at home before taking up active work at her profession.

Miss Gertrude D. Ross, daughter of A. B. Ross, of 104 Forrest avenue, Narberth, has entered Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., which opens Friday, the 24th, with an enrollment of 800. Miss Ross is a graduate of the Narberth High School. This year 82 students from Pennsylvania are enrolled at Mount Holyoke.

The great "Hunter Show," the Bryn Mawr Horse Show, will give its twenty-fourth annual exhibition on the famed grounds at Bryn Mawr on September 29, 30 and October 1 and 2. The great jumpers of a great hunting countryside will vie with those from distant points in contests that have taken an assured place among the annual classics, and there will also be numerous events for harness horses, saddle horses and for ponies to keep the show up to its standard as a well-rounded presentation of all that is best in the equine race.
